COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The town meeting voted the recommendations of the budget committee right down the line. The committee spent a lot of time on the budget this year and several people have indicated that they thought the committee did a good job. It was their aim to keep the tax rate at 40 mills or lower this year. Of course the final determination of the rate will not be made until the county tax is in and the assessors are through their assessing.

While on the subject of assessing this might be the time to again mention that the declarations for this year are in the center of the town report. Everyone should put their town report or the declaration where it will be available April 2.

The selectmen have adopted a new equipment rental rate for the use of town equipment. The new schedule should provide more funds for the truck rental account and the town should be able to replace equipment when it is worn out.

This has been a very bad winter for plowing and snow removal. Although there hasn't been an unusually large amount of snow at one time, there have been a lot of different storms that required plowing and snow removal. There isn't anything that can be done to stop the snow so we will just have to plow it when it gets here.

I haven't received any communication from the water improvement commission since the hearing was held in Portland on Feb. 5. The next move seems to be up to the Federal Department of Health and Welfare. I will pass on any information as soon as I receive it.

Thrifty Committee's Advice Followed --Bethel's Town Expense Up $30,000

Although the appropriations advised by the budget committee were followed at Bethel's town meeting Monday evening, there was lengthy discussion over some of the smaller amounts. Two new selectmen and two new school committee members were chosen, while Mrs. Violet Bennett was re-elected town clerk and Roderick McMillin fire ward.

Richard Davis and Norman Greig, unopposed for three year terms as selectmen and assessors, were elected. Eugene Buswell defeated Mrs. June Swan as three year member of the school committee. For a one year term Harold Rolfe was ahead of Seymour Butters, who had held the position since a last year's appointment.

It was voted to pay selectmen $100 each for the year's services. Other officers' salaries are as for several years past: assessors, $100; clerk, $100; health officer, $36. All reports were accepted as printed in the town report.

First discussion developed over the appropriation of $3,000 for Civil Defense emergency equipment, on which the budget committee had advised a negative vote. Local CD Director Stephen Jacobs explained that possibly $1,500 would entitle the town to an equal grant from the government. However, even half the original amount was denied.

Several questions regarding present situations and the past year's records were referred to Town Manager Michael Houlihan, whose answers evidently were satisfactory. The usual appropriation for the Maine Publicity Bureau was turned down as recommended, in spite of considerable effort to retain the $175 donation. There was no objection to raising $3,500 toward the rebuilding of Mason Street next year.

Transportation of secondary school pupils to Gould Academy and Woodstock High School was decisively turned down. The desirability of a $150 contribution to the Bethel Area Association was explained by Norman Greig. The association was formed to promote the winter sports attractions of the Bethel area and has no connection with the Bethel Area Development Corporation. This was the closest decision of the evening and the no vote prevailed.

It was voted to buy the Harris Block from the Chapman Estate, taking $5,000 from the fire station fund, and to spend not over $4,000 for architectural drawings. The selectmen were authorized to appoint five citizens, to serve with the town manager and fire chief, on a committee for this purpose.

Permission was voted for Sunday opening of business places.

Total appropriations, including the County tax which is yet to be determined, will be about $30,000 more than in 1962.

A fund raising drive is started in Rumford to defray expenses to send Avery Caldwell and Art Cunningham to the National Junior Nordic Championships at Jackson Hole, Wyo. The Chisholm Ski Corporation started off with a $200 donation.

Bell Telephone Laboratories reported "Telstar" loses its voice, failing to respond to commands from earth. Bell scientists at Andover, Maine, Cape Canaveral, Fla., and Murray Hill, N. J., are working to get the satellite in contact again.

Sidney W. Bessey of Buckfield is one of six persons nominated for postmasters in Maine.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moore and sons, Bruce and Arthur, West Paris, was burned Monday. All contents were destroyed. The loss was estimated at $12,000. Firemen were hampered by lack of water.

The effort to build a new school for the 1800 students in the Oxford Hills School District is presently bogged down in legal proceedings. There is no settlement yet in sight.

He search the world for truth, we call The good, the pure, the beautiful, From graven stone and written scroll,
From the old flower-fields of the soul,
And weary seekers for the best,
We come back laden from our quest,

The Book Our Mothers Read—the Bible

TODAY'S meditation

Read Mark 11:22-26 Whenever you stand up to pray, if you have anything against anybody, forgive him.
(Mark 11:25, MOFFAT.)

Forgiveness is two fold: we need to forgive others, and we need to receive forgiveness of God. Our unforgiving spirit stands in the way of God's forgiving us. So says our Lord.

A friend suffered a tragic loss which she felt certain persons could have prevented if they had been more careful.
Long afterward she said, "If I did not believe it was God's will that the loss occurred, I could never have forgiven them."

The responsibility for what happened was thus attributed to God. But forgiveness as the Master taught and exemplified is to be shown to those responsible for what happens whether by carelessness or by willfulness.

Such forgiveness is hard, but possible. Over against our thoughtless and willful wrongdoing and our unwillingness to forgive others, how wonderful is God's amazing forgiveness as shown to mankind in Christ!
To the penitent, such forgiveness is redemptive.

PRAYER: Our Father, purge us of our unforgiving spirit.
Help us as we enter this Lenten season to put away anything we have been harboring, consciously or unconsciously, in resentment against anyone. So may Thy forgiveness be real to us and bring us Thy peace. In Jesus name. Amen.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

STILL, COLD, STAR-LIT

There are winter nights when quiet cold settles on the land and the dark velvet overhead curtain is studded with blazing stars. If the cold spell coincides with the full of the moon and the countryside is white with its winter blanket, the brooding loveliness of the scene reminds one of the soft tones of a Corot.

The countryman knows by mid-afternoon that it will be a still, cold night with the red line well below the zero mark.
The day's breeze fades away; the cold, honed edge of settling chill is sharp against his face as he comes down across the pasture from chopping wood.
When he comes in from evening chores with milkpail and lantern, he stops in the doorway a minute to savor the night.

The yellow-orange moon slices serenely among the stars.
From the woodland, half-muffled but far-carrying reports tell of splitting trees. If one were standing by a woodland pond, he would hear the groanings and moanings of the ice as its changing pressures moved

HEALTH FOR ALL
—OUR HERO

Three cheers for the high school coach!

He is frequently a hero, and something of an idol to his boys. Win, lose or tie, he is a man of stature and influence within our schools.

February probably found him busy on the basketball court, calling the shots from the foul line. He also calls his shots—correctly—when he advises his team not to smoke.
For years it has been the practice of most high school athletic coaches not only to advise against smoking but to bar from the team anyone who does smoke during the playing season.

His wisdom has not been gained casually. It comes from first-hand knowledge of the human body, how it can be nourished, trained and disciplined to peak performance level—and exactly what it takes to turn boys into champions.

For a long time the coach raised a lonely voice against smoking. Today, however, he is in good company, much of it scientific. Evidence against cigarette smoking is mounting.
The scientific jury is still out, is still studying this pleasant little custom picked up in the New World by Sir Walter Raleigh, but to date this much is clear:

—There is a direct link between damaged lungs and heart

CAPITOL COMMENTS

CONGRESSMAN

CLIFFORD G. MCINTIRE

MAINE, SECOND DISTRICT

Everyone will soon be reading a lot in the newspapers about plans to permit an increase in the national debt. The national debt figure represents, of course, the extent to which our government permits itself to go into the hole in paying its bills.

We do have a permanent debt limit of $285 billion, but last year the Congress passed a law permitting the debt to go above that level on temporary basis.
For instance, presently our national debt is running just about $308 billion, being scheduled to decline from that figure to $305 billion by April 1, to $300 billion by June 25, and then down to the permanent debt limit level of $285 billion by July 1.

A problem is developing in the budgeting area, however, for the budget of the current fiscal year is expected to carry a deficit of almost $9 billion while the deficit associated with the fiscal 1964 budget is expected to be in the vicinity of $12 billion.

Because of this, the Administration has come forward to ask Congress to freeze the temporary debt limit of $308 billion rather than to let it phase down, as now provided in law, to the permanent level of $285 billion.

On top of this, the Administration will probably ask Congress to increase the debt ceiling to about $320 billion for the 1964 fiscal year—such an increase being designed to accommodate the deficits of the fiscal 1963 and 1964 years.

The national debt can be held in check only if the government either holds back on its spending or reaches out into new and broadened tax areas to bring in increased revenues.

However, as things set up, there are constant — rather than relaxed — demands for federal spending as reflected in the fact that the fiscal 1964 budget calls for expenditures of almost $100 billion. In addition, the President has recommended new programs carrying price tags totalling billions of dollars.

Appropriation and new program matters are now before the Congress in their early phases of consideration. Undoubtedly, some cuts will be made in appropriations and certainly, some of the programs will be denied by Congress. Only the future will tell what will be the substance of the appropriation cuts and the program denials.

And the prospects do not appear bright for increasing the flow of money into the United States Treasury inasmuch as the President has called for — and committees in Congress are now considering — reductions in income tax rates for individuals and corporations.

Initially it had been recommended that certain tax adjustments should be made to recover the losses in revenue that would result from tax reductions; however, just recently the President announced that he would like to see to tax reductions become the first order of business, with so-called tax reforms receiving secondary consideration.

In the last analysis it will be Congress that determines what form of tax bill, if any, emerges from this legislative session, but it appears highly unlikely that tax adjustments will be effected to balance off revenue losses resulting from tax cuts.

In the last Congress I was a member of a special Textile Conference Group in the House of Representatives. This committee was especially concerned with textile imports, having met with the President in this regard on several occasions. In due course, the President entered into both long and short-term agreements with foreign countries, setting up schedules

20 SECONDS with the NAZARENE

It is tragic, but true, that we may lose health, wealth, and freedom just by neglecting them. God's Word asks, "How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?" Our soul's eternal salvation can be lost by neglect as well. God forbid that we should miss heaven through mere soul neglect.

that limited cotton imports to the 1961 levels.

Because I feel that this special textile committee brought about some good results for our domestic cotton textile industry, I have written to Congressman Carl Vinson, who served as chairman of the committee, urging that it again be set up for this Congress.

I am interested in getting this committee reorganized because there is a very real need to have negotiations entered into on wool imports. Right now wool is being imported into the United States in ever increasing amounts and something should be done to curb these imports.

When this special textile committee was functioning, the President's office expressed an interest in attending to wool imports after it had considered cotton. I feel that it is high time we move in this direction; hence, my letter to Chairman Vinson urging re-organization of the committee.

I definitely feel that such a committee can contribute considerably to the best interests of our domestic textile industry, helping our textile plants to stay in business and our textile workers to keep their jobs.

BULLETIN:

FOA-5X additive in Shell Heating Oil helps protect your fuel system winter after winter

THERE'S a new additive in today's Shell Heating Oil. Called FOA-5X, it works round the clock to help guard your fuel system—from storage tank to burner head.

FOA-5X helps reduce the build-up of heat-robbing deposits that can collect in sensitive areas of burner nozzles. It lets Shell Heating Oil burn in a radiant, even flame. It helps reduce service calls and expense. The result: more warmth per gallon of fuel—top heating performance at minimum cost.

Before you buy your next gallon of heating oil, call us. We will give you complete details about Shell Heating Oil with FOA-5X and about our services.

We hate to know that our deer are being molested by loose dogs. If your dog is away from your sight for half an hour you'd better take care. It may be one that is helping other dogs in this destruction. Don't blame the wardens if they shoot him. How would you feel if you were in the deer's place with dogs coming after you and no chance to escape? We understand that some deer were mangled and killed in this part of our town recently.

"ANY SUCKERS IN MAINE?"

Early in January of this year newspapers carried the story of a raid by state and local authorities in Harrisburg, Pa., in which two men were arrested and millions of phony lottery tickets were seized. Confiscated were tickets and printing plates for three national lotteries, each offering a first prize of $75,000. In the newspaper story following the arrests and confiscations, Pennsylvania State Police Commissioner Frank C. McCarney said that none of the lotteries actually paid prize money.

It is interesting to note that one of the two men arrested in connection with the Harrisburg raid gave his name as Murray Baker, Miami, Florida. A man of the same name was fined $1,000 in 1956 after pleading guilty to operating a lottery in Waterville, Maine. In 1958 he was fined $1,000 and given a six-month suspended sentence in U. S. Federal Court in Portland for failure to purchase Federal gambling stamps.

Maine State Police call attention to the headline above, "Any Suckers in Maine," for the purpose of alerting Maine citizens to the dangers of participating in lotteries of any kind. Specifically, they point out that lottery booklets, containing fourteen tickets each, have been received recently by people in various sections of Maine. This lottery, claimed to be sponsored by the Republic of Haiti and offering prizes based on the running of the Kentucky Derby next May, actually has no connection with the Republic of Haiti.

The State Police point out that, not only do the lotteries fail to pay off, but they also emphasize that it is unlawful to participate in any lottery. They urge anyone receiving these booklets to avoid becoming involved in an illegal practice by turning the booklets over immediately to the State Police or to local enforcement agencies—a procedure which has already been followed by a number of Maine citizens.

Miss Warrington is a graduate of Millford High School and the University of Delaware. She is presently teaching in Amherst, Mass. Mr. Chadbourne is a graduate of Dartmouth College and Harvard Business School. He is associated with P. H. Chadbourne & Co. and is a director of the New England Lumbermen's Association. They will be married June 30, 1963.

Six Points for Motoring Skiers

HERE ARE SUGGESTIONS that will make a more comfortable, trouble-free trip for motoring skiers. 1. Always use a ski rack that locks. Buick developed the rack pictured above demonstrated by a model at New York's National Ski Fair because of the increasing number of ski thefts from parking lots. Also, skis that fall off in travel are either lost or damaged. 2. Put skis in rack with tips backward (as in photo) to minimize the effects of constant near 100 mile winds working on your skis. 3. Secure all straps and cables so they don't flap — they'll chip your car paint very fast. 4. Always carry some food and one or two blankets — everyone gets snowbound once in a while. 5. Don't overdrive for the long car trip. Try not to wear parka's and windbreakers in the car. And 6. Be kind to your skiboats. Always clamp them on the boot tree before you allow the wet or moist leather to dry out and curl. Buick's ski rack is adaptable to other cars.

OXFORD COUNTY 4-H BOY ENTERTAINS U. OF M. PRESIDENT

Recently Fred Jenkins II of Upton and his cabin mates at the University of Maine entertained and had as supper guests Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Elliot.

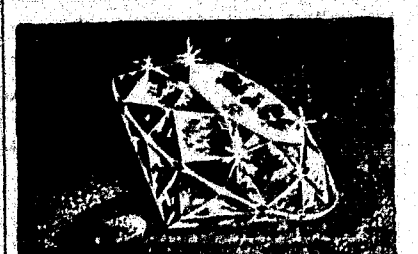

Fred lives in one of the University housekeeping cabins with Ben Deinrick of Dryden, Tom Grey of Boston, and Steve Card of Searsport.

Fred has been enrolled in 4-H work for eight years and has taken a variety of projects completing eight in one year. Now that he is busy at college he is limiting his projects to two—Dairy and Food Preparation. Food preparation is a natural to him this year since he does most of the cooking at his cabin.

When Dr. and Mrs. Elliot visited with them they prepared a New England boiled dinner. After the dinner they enjoyed coffee and conversation. Dr. Elliot told them that he lived in a similar cabin—not quite as good as these—when he went to high school in West Virginia. He told them about his experiences in Algeria several years ago.

It seemed that both the boys and the guests enjoyed themselves. After the guests had left the boys realized that the ice cream to go with the coffee was still in the refrigerator so they had it for a late snack after finishing studying.
